Adant's Electropoise: Gentlemen—For the past five years my wife has been a sufferer from dysposts. Se completely did the disease make a swer's fact former self that life was almost despaired of. Her nervous system was almost entirely destroyed, and the mightest noise would throw her into a nervous spam, which would last far bears. Medical skill failed to bring any relief.

Hef.
Through the recommendation of an eminent fiving we were induced to try the Elect.cpoise. After a persistent use of the instrument, the effect has been wonderful. Her nervous system has been restored to its almost normal condition; her many its wonderfulle improved the law vide. hom restores to its sames normal condition; for digestion is wonderfully improved; she is rapidly graining in flesh; and, upon the whole, is making a resid recovery, which epeaks volumes for the wenderful curative powers of the Electropoise, as wendered curative powers of the Sicetropoias, as her ease was considered hopeless. If any are skeptical on the subject, let them try the Electropoise, and its wonderful powers will quickly dispel all doubt. Yours truly, W. M. PROPST.

Crazy About His Air-ship

For several weeks past the pustmasters and editors of county papers throughout the violalty of Ciarksburg, W. Va, have been receiving letters from capitalists and inventors, lequiring as to the antecedents Health is Wealth! of one Ondus Love, elaiming to be a West Virginies, who was exhibiting an air-ship, which appeared to solve the problem of aerial nevigation. The last letter received was from Utics, Minn., and we widely cironlated. Love's family was finally located at Peel Tree, but before they could hardly realize the prominence one of their members was attaining, notice was received from Saginaw, Mich., that the inventor had gone insane. H's friends immediately went West and carried him to Clarksburg, where he has been confined in jail for a week, while an application for his admission to the State Lunatic Asylum is being considered. Love is a young man, about twenty-eight years of age, and the son of a well-to do farmer. He left his home several years since, and his whereabouts has been unknown until very whereaboute has been unknown until very reachtly. He seems lasane on no subject but his air-ship, but becomes a raving manico when that subject is broached. The model of his invention is a trautiful piece of workmanship, and is said to have been wholly constructed by I. ve himself. The ship is fiel shaped, having three propellors, one in front and one on each side. It ap-pears almost perfect in operation and capa-ble of going at an invalculable rate of speed. The material used in its construction is aluminum, and the sails are made of silk woven by Love, who built a loom appenally for the purpose. Whether the machine can be put to any practical use is, as yet, undetermined; but, as the model runs so emcothly and can be made to fly like a bird, it looks as though it was a success. Love's idea is different in every respect from Pen-nington's, and the model is an entirely new principle. His father has taken the inveation up, and will endeavor to accertain its true value. The demented young inventor will be taken to the asylum,

A Row in the Pantheon.

past lest the presence of large numbers of full stock of zealous pilgrims in Rome might in some way rouse the smouldering fires of religious passion or popular prejudice. What has been apprehended happened yes raday, and great excitement prevails. A company of pilgr'ms, after having been received by the Pope, was visiting the notable sanctuaries of the city. While they were at the Pantheon they manifested open disrespect to the tomb of King Victor Emmanuel, who unified Italy, deprived the Pope of his temporal power and made Rome his capital. The disrespectful acts of the pligrims, as they stood before the toom, were so marked as to attract the attentions of others who were in the Pantheon at the time. Some of the bystander protested vigorously against such disr spect of the illustrious dead. One word led to another, and a row between the pilgrims and the defenders of Viotor Emmanuel followed. The church attendants, in alarm, summoned the police, who entered the church and placed three of the pilgrims under arrot. When the news of the disturbance and subsequent errests spread through Rome, bands of young men began to eather immediately in many quarters and march-Steam Flooring & Planing Mill should be street, singing anti-clorical and patriotic airs, hooting and hissing clorical and patriotic airs, hooting and hissing at any pilgrims who chanced a ross their path at any pilgrims who chanced a ross their path. The processionists marched to the hotels occupied by the pilgrims, and loudly demanded that the Italian flag be displayed. The proprietors were quick to secede to this patrionic demand, and when the national flag appeared the crowd raised and enthusiastic cheer, which was long continued. At the same time the growns for the pilgrims were redoubled. The bands of paraders marched through the principal streets of the city, singing, cheering and denonneing the pilgrims.
